Who We Are?

We are both Naturopathic Doctors located in British Columbia and Alberta, Canada. Each with over 10 years of clinical practice, own our own thriving private practices and each year attended several Integrative Medical conferences. We have sat through thousands of hours of content to improve and refine our own clinical expertise.

Our clinical practice has a focus on Complex Patients which include and not limited to Lyme Disease, Mold Illness, Oncology, CIRS, Complex pediatric such as PANDAS/PANS, ASD, ADHD and more.

Our Purpose

The Advanced Clinical Pearls Forum is a medical conference designed and curated to deliver an experience and educational program that meaningfully differs from standard conferences – driving higher physician attendance, deeper engagement, and measurable clinical impact.

Our Mission

Convert time-constrained clinicians into exceptional clinicians by offering uniquely practical, efficient, and career-relevant content. The mission of this conference is to bridge the gap between evidence medicine and clinical outcomes. Dr. Taylor and Dr. Anouk have been in clinical practice for a combined over 30 years and have attended internationally renowned conferences from the USA, Canada and Europe. It has become exceptionally obvious that there is a missing component between each of these conferences: meticulous clinical applications.

This conference will not be constrained by Continuing Education restrictions and as a result, our speakers will have free opportunity to share treatment plans, dosing, supplement company names and more.

Why We Are Doing This

Our purpose is to call for speakers who will reveal and share their most coveted successes with clinical detail that truly creates a confident clinician upon returning to their practice. We realize that almost all conferences are under tight regulation to obtain Continuing Education hours, we however are not striving to qualify for these credits, as there are limitations as to what can be spoken about (specific supplement companies to dosing) and our focus is to bridge this gap in clinical care. It is evident that conferences like this are in high demand as current conference organizers are restrained by obtaining credentials for their attendees, which is still important to maintain and sustain for licensed practitioners. We however realize that we, and with a survey with our colleagues, hundreds of physicians, are willing to abstain from continuing education hours in replacement for advanced clinical pearls.

Who our conference is intended for

This conference is curated to Naturopathic Doctors, Functional Medical Doctors, Pharmacists and Nurse Practitioners who have had at least 5 years of clinical practice. It is important to us that attendees have clinical practice so we can offer clinical details to cases these practitioners have already seen or prepared to see in clinical practice.

Why be a sponsor at this conference?

Advanced Clinical Pearls Forum is a conference exclusive to experienced practitioners with 5+ years of experience. Our volunteers are open to new grads and students to still give opportunity to new upcoming practitioners and have access to more advanced clinical experience to utilize in their practice

As a sponsor, you will be amongst practitioners who support some of the most challenging cases in the world. Practitioners attending are looking for cutting edge, more complex therapies for their patient for a 3 day high-impact days of education, connection and professional collaboration.

As a sponsor, you gain direct access to practitioners that are seeking your product(s).
